A Deep Dive into Civil Money Penalties

SPEAKER: William M. Vaughan, RN, BSN, Remedi SeniorCare

Failing to comply with regulations can prompt the imposition of various sanctions, including civil money penalties in headline grabbing amounts. While traditionally reserved for more significant deficiencies, CMS recently upped the ante by including a history of even low level infection control deficiencies as worthy of consideration when imposing a civil money penalty. This presentation will examine the trends and patterns of deficiencies which have prompted civil money penalties from both state and federal regulators. To identify risk mitigation strategies, actual case studies, including those from administrative appeal boards, will be discussed. Lastly, the impact of documentation, staff/resident/family interviews and QAPI processes on the decision to impose a civil money penalty will be addressed.

QA to CYA, How to Make QA-Protected Decisions During a Pandemic - Or Any Other Time

SPEAKER: Margaret Chamberlain, JD, Rolf Goffman Martin Lang LLP

We all put people first during the early days of the pandemic. We protected our residents. We protected our staff. And now is the time that we protect ourselves and the facility. Learn how to create the paper trail necessary for emergency preparedness reporting and survey without leaving yourself open to professional liability, criminal changes, and survey deficiencies.
